Little Lost Sometimes

The Almighty

Emptiness inside my soul Feelings scattered all around I need somewhere to lose myself But everywhere has been found Sad eyes staring out the window Tequila tears come raining down And pain comes to leave you cold So many miles between us and So many endless roads

[Chorus:]

We're all searching for deliverance When there ain't nowhere to run Let your spirit down easy Cos we're always gonna be A little lost sometimes

And when there's nothing to believe in Sometimes these words are not enough And promises, so hard to keep them It's hard to feel what you can't touch Yesterday is yesteryear Spirits bleeding into dust Give me time to understand This pretty thing that we call love

[Chorus]

What is this feeling rising over me I might look alright but I'm scared as hell The more I know the less I understand Put me together before I fall apart again

[Chorus]
