Look What Happened Tomorrow

The Almighty

I'm good at nothing but I'm trying I told the truth but I'm lying Sick with the need to be accepted Scared of the joke I'll never get it [Chorus] Just give me five minutes And I'll give you the world Just give me five minutes And I'll give you the world Just give me five minutes So stand in line and wait your turn You've got to learn now baby learn Self abused and plain confused Everyone must get used [Chorus] In another time it'll just be fine It'll be just fine in another time In another time it'll just be fine It'll be just fine in another time Always looking for things to point the finger at Looking for things to point your finger at Looking for things to point your finger at Looking for something, looking for something [Chorus] In another time it'll just be fine It'll be just fine in another time In another time it'll just be fine It'll be just fine in another time Look what happened tomorrow
