

Come On

The Almost

All the bottles and bad ideas
All that I gave away,
All the battles that have give in
All the time so afraid, oh yeah!

When the water was just too deep
And the river too wild
The loneliness and the lack of sleep
Let and the lack of sleep
Left me nowhere to hide.
There was nothing that I could tell
Except just for all to yell:

Hey, come on,
Give up, you know you're wanting to!
Hey, come on,
Surrender to what's stopping you!
Cause the truth is alive,
It's just berried inside
You can face it and just walk away!
So come on, so come on!

How come it doesn't get easier
Even when I feel strong?
The more I want it, the less I know
That this is where I belong.
And it's nothing that I could tell
Except just for all to yell:

Hey, come on,
Give up, you know you're wanting to!
Hey, come on,
Surrender to what's stopping you!
Cause this truth is alive,
It's just berried inside
You can face it and just walk away!
So come on, so come on, yeah!

I've wasted a thousand clouds,
Maybe there's only one more
There's something on the other side,
Just gotta walk through the door
Just gotta walk through the door!

Hey, come on,
Give up, you know you're wanting to!
Hey, come on,
Surrender to what's stopping you!
Cause the truth is alive,
It's just berried inside
You can face it and just walk away!
So come on, so come on!
