Southern Weather

The Almost

If my faults are your song Then I will not be content to sing along If I'm the one that's making you so out of touch Then why don't you just go ahead and... Why don't you just go ahead and

Blame it on this southern weather Blame it on anything It's not like you to ask small favors You can blame me for everything

If I'm the cause of all your sickness and pain Then I'll bury my face in the all of dirty shame... If this is just what's getting you so out of touch Then why don't you just go ahead and... Why don't you just go ahead and (go ahead and)

Blame it on this southern weather Blame it on anything It's not like you to ask small favors You can blame me for everything

This is my last plan to bury all of your charms This is my final rush to reach for you

Blame it on this southern weather Blame it on anything It's not like you to ask small favors You can blame me for everything (you can blame me for everything)

Blame it on this southern weather Blame it on anything It's not like you to ask small favors You can blame me for everything You can blame me, blame me You can blame me, blame me
