

Wrong

The Almost

Tiny girl
I know I let this get a little strange
I'm so...yeah!

From the very beginning, I knew
You were everything I'll ever need
Compassion, completion
Looking right back at me
I couldn't believe it was real
I couldn't believe it was real

I'm wrong and you're wrong
And I don't think there's a difference
We're facing things
We never thought we would
Don't stop hanging on
I know it's hard, but I swear it's happening
It's happening

This is all that we need to say
I love every little things about
You, all the little things, all the little things
Your smile, your laugh, the way you carry yourself
It's all right in its place
So perfectly in its place

I'm wrong and you're wrong
And I don't think there's a difference
We're facing things
We never thought we would
Don't stop hanging on
I know it's hard, but I swear it's happening
It's happening

I love you
For who you are to me
I love you
For all the air that breathe
And that was you
'Cause God put you right in front of me

I'm wrong and you're wrong
And I don't think there's a difference
We're facing things
We never thought we would
Don't stop hanging on
I know it's hard, but I swear it's happening
It's happening
