

The media is raving
It's nothing new but who's in charge
Can someone tell me what they're thinking
With you
Excuse the blank expressions
If it's not their call then who's at fault
And can someone tell me what went wrong
Is it difficult when we pretend you're out there
Not to make excuses when we know the truth
If you're asking if we all will be alright
Not the days we always watched you take care after
With you
Excuse the vague expressions
If it's not their call then who's at fault
And can someone tell me what went wrong...
