

The Change

The Anix

Hollow alone
In the shame you are
I laugh at you as I stand and watch you from a side of me
If I go crazy for you
But I can't trust what you say
I'll be alright in the end
(Just don't leave this way)

I held you up when you were low
Showed you which way I should go
If I could show you what I see
That's exactly what you done to me

Every lie that you told
Cause an effect that would stay
And built a wall of hate
A pain that won't go away
My senses confused by the actions you take (Now it's your life)
(And now it's your life)

I held you up when you were low
Showed you which way I should go
If I could show you what I see
That's exactly what you done to me

I held you up when you were low
Showed you which way I should go
If I could show you what I see
That's exactly what you done to me
