The D In Detroit

The Anniversary

Feeling the time peel away at my life again. As memories combine, not sure where I've ever been. 'Cause it's the D in Detroit which scares me to no end. I'll co unt to ten. When living this down makes so much sense. We collide - and onward we do fly We collide - and onward we do fly Onward - until we hit again. I kept your picture just behind the eye those weeks when our di stance grew. Drove north where I found you waiting in Des Moines - thank God I'm not losing You And girl I hope you're not alone - and sleep through this weath er And girl I hope you're whole again - back home we'll sleep bett er.
