

Demon Driven Man

The Answer

No one wants to listen to your darkest secrets
People think you're crazy but I know you mean it
Tell me, do you still lie awake at night
Trying to piece together your fucked up life?
And when you start to wonder how it got this way
Baby, you know, you fall apart
Baby, you know, you fall apart

You got demons, man
You got demons
You got demons, man
You got demons, man

All I wanna hear is a normal conversation
I'm easily distracted by the next temptation
Remember when you thought the world belonged to you?
The formula was simple and it stuck like glue
Thrown to the wolves, each and every day
Why do you think you're on your own?
Why do you think you're on your own?

You got demons, man
You got demons
You got demons, man
You got demons, man

You got demons, man

I have tasted what you taste
I have broken what you break
I'm just as foolish, just as scared
Still convinced that no one cares
Who am I to preach resolve?
Strong effect needs stronger cause
And if we dwell on latent pride
We'll give those demons
Some place to hide

You got demons, man
You got demons, man
Man, I understand
You got demons, man
Man, I understand
You got demons, man
Man, I understand
You got demons, man
Man, I understand
You got demons, man
Man, I understand
