

The Night Feels So Much Better Than The Day

The Apers

Bright day light
I don't want it
Want the dark to brighten up my sight

Bright day light
I don't want it
Want the dark to open up my eyes

Every day's a lie
Every night is why
I still think this shit is all worthwhile

I close my eyes, lights fade away
The night feels so much better than the day
When I was dazed, alone and hours out of place
The night feels so much better than the day

Dark grey night
I want it
Want the earth to stop rotating now

Every day is fate
Every night is great
Wish that it could be night time all day

I close my eyes, lights fade away
The night feels so much better than the day
When I was dazed, alone and hours out of place
The night feels so much better than the day

I close my eyes, lights fade away
The night feels so much better than the day
When I was dazed, alone and hours out of place
The night feels so much better than the day
