

Coffin Varnish

The Atlas Moth

It's just begun to spiral out of hand as we lose our ground
Could we have ever known that we'd be standing still while barely holding on?

So step out of the light

So step out of the light

And pass the belt

I'll hold the world as witness as you're passing out

I'll hold this child as hostage as I let go of the wheel