

A Sister Like You

The Auteurs

Two sisters sighed
Said, "We might as well be lovers
We're so close
Just like blood brothers"

And the horse guard died
I lost all power
She said to me
"Dis, you come down in the shower"

Their mother cried
Her religion was faultless
Thought obeyed
She remained unaware of this

And the horse guard died
I lost all power
She said to me
"Dis, you come down in the shower"

What am I to do
For a sister like you?

Two sisters cried
For their missing brother
Who was found cold but alive
No longer their lover