

Enough

The Autumn Film

And I know you're here Cause I need you here Sometimes it's hard to say That you're more than enough

And I've made mistakes Took things I should not take Said things I should not say While you gave more than Enough for me

My heart's been ripped wide open By all the things I do not need And your heart's been Ripped wide open As I keep chasing other things

My love don't run I want you Wait here I'll come for you My love don't hide I'll find you Wait here I'll come for you

Sometimes it's hard to say That you're more than enough
