

Bring Your Love To Me

The Avett Brothers

Bring your love to me
I will hold it like a newborn child
One of my own blood
And I might just even sing a song to keep it calm

If you're wondering, am I capable God knows I am
And if it's meant to be
I will go alone, God knows I can Just not as well, and besides what kind of fun is there to be had with no one else?

And I can only stand here still
And I can only hope you will keep me in focus long enough to tell I'm trying to help (that's all)

Bring your love to me
I will hold it like a dandelion One I want to save, one I want to keep from the breeze that follows me and no one else

I can only stand here still
And I can only hope you will
keep me in focus long enough to tell I'm trying to help
