

You put your dress away
with your feelings
I know the tears will be mine again

You take moment to stop my breathing an I know the tears will be mine

As I believe
I believe in you

It's been some time now and I'm still broken My head is empty, my eyes ar swollen

And just behind me
the void is growing And inside me I feel unwoven

And I believe
I believe in you

I'm on the surface
where wind is blowing Eyes are shut to the weight of knowing that everything I am is forbidden
Through the hallways of doubt I'm driven

As I believe
I believe in you

Take a moment crawl deeper under Take this moment
And wish it away
