

You See Me

The Band

I heard a train whistle blowin'
People was a-yellin'
There's a man on the railroad track
By the river with a brown sack on his back.

Don't look now, honey, no no
You'll see what they'll see right now
They see a fool blind by love and you see me.

I heard a truck horn blowin'
Dogs just a-barkin'
There's a man in the middle of street
Against the red light settin' there rubbin' his feet.

Don't look now, honey, no no
You'll see what they'll see right now
They see a fool blind by love and you'll see me.

I heard a boat whistle blowin'
People was a-yellin'
There's a man on the dock of the bay
About to jump and something to back him up.

Well, don't you look now, honey, no no
You'll see what they'll see right now
They'll see a fool blind by love and you'll see me.

I heard a train whistle blowin'
People was a-yellin'
There's a man on the railroad track
By the river with a brown sack on his back.

Don't look now, honey, no no
You'll see what they'll see right now
They see a fool blind by love and you'll see me
Well, they see a fool blind by love and you'll see me
Baby, baby, fool blind by love and you'll see me
Oh, fool blind by love
Fool blind by love
Fool blind by love
Fool blind by love.
