

December

The Beautiful Mistake

She fell from grace
Since her tragedy came true
Since then she's been running
Not knowing what to do

You fall away from me
You're always falling away
From the one you want to be
And the ones you love

December was a long year
Still running from your pain
Facades and walls, they find me
And I never felt the same
I'm riddled in these board games
But I'm bored with the game

You fall away from me
You're always falling away
From the one you want to be
And the one you love

You fall away from me
You're always falling away
From the one you want to be
And the one you love

And you fall, you fall
You fall away, fall away
