Girlfriend

The Beautiful South

Girl make a list Go out and find yourself a new plaything Oh girl you need a trip 'Cause he's not worth the misery and pain

So just remember how he would tell you lies And then pretend that everything was so sweet No need to sacrifice If you're not satisfied He's just a canine running round on heat

Girl, you must resist Don't let him squirm his way into your heart Oh girl you must insist You've got to stop the fool before he starts

So just remember how he was so untrue And all the tacky things he did to you No need to sympathise 'Cause he's not worth the time You've got to find someone who's true to you

Girlfriend, how could you let him treat you so bad Girlfriend, you know you're the best he's ever had Girlfriend
