Countbackwards From Ten

The Big Pink

I've seen it all and I said She's calling out to us all And I ache She did not know it belonged to me And we could fall into each others arms and severed clean Oh where to lean Now, it's something that I could've asked for Apparently We're not alone And I don't know what I saw And I hope that no one saw Stand by my side Better off dead You seem a little low again I'm ready to leave again Seem a little And eyes start to roll I reveal To see that little glow again I'm ready to leave again Seem a little low And the wheels start to roll I reveal To see that little glow I've seen all that's there And I seen it all and I said It's calling out to all and I ache She did not know it belonged to me And it was something that I couldn't ask for Better off dead Se em a little low again I reveal Seem a little glow again To see that little glow again Seem a little low And the wheels start to roll I reveal I rebel To see that little glow again Seem a little low And eyes start to glow I reveal