Lifespan Of A Fly

The Bird and the Bee

Oh, my children Oh, my loves You are not alone I must go I'll miss you so My time has finally come Oh, my lovers Oh, my lives Keep me in your minds Don't despair Don't chase the air Where we once lived together I have no regrets for anything I've done I feel like I've lived as good as anyone Remember me, remember me as best you can So I might live, outlive my lifespan Here I will lie From where I sprung The circle is completed The earth is warm How I transformed And now I am defeated I have no regrets for anything I've done I feel like I've lived as good as anyone Remember me, remember me as best you can

So I might live, outlive my lifespan
