Broken

The Birthday Massacre

Time is the promise

It turns and tells them what to do

It makes them dishonest

They let the suspicion kill the truth

Broken Heart, Broken Mind When you let me in Did you not know where I had been?

And love's what they wasted A lie that makes their dreams come true They're hiding their faces Their smiles can break the heart in two

Broken Heart, Broken Mind When you let me in Did you not know where I had been?
