

I'm Charming

The Black Dahlia Murder

Yeah, I'm running off the rails
I've finally gone crazy
And the ground is spinning faster
Than my teeth could ever grind

I know it's a shame
When success does complain
But I don't remember my name
In the absolute wrong

I have made this place to lay my head
A reoccurring nightmare
I never trust, I never rest
I've become another victim
Of this self-serving device

My cock does all the talking
My mouth now just for lie
I'm winding down to nothing
It's suddenly so clear
I'm winding down to nothing

A human smoke that fills the air
What can you believe?
That is the question
I have you on a string
Something yet up my sleeve

Bury me deep as I have an unborn child
In a world yet cold enough to host
This seed of endless ugliness
In a sea of corruption

A wake of lie so wildly I have stirred
I'm winding down to nothing
It's suddenly so clear
I'm winding down to nothing

A human smoke that fills the air
What can you believe?
That is the question
I have you on a string
Something yet up my sleeve

My love is but a lie
Always reaping what I have sown
I'm taking you down with me
To degrees you'll never know
