Novelty Crosses

The Black Dahlia Murder

Eyes of perfect ivory Match the sweetest lengths of your neck I'm but a stain to such holy fabrics Darwin's proposal Bouncing back from colored glass

Serpents will guide me to your hull Slithering between the pews of pearl I'll walk a path of purity and temporary grace Whatever it may take to eat and drink of you till slaked

To run a gloveless finger up Curvaceous trembling leg We mustn't wait

The fruits of tragedy we'll taste I'll be Adam, you'll be Eve We'll fuck and so create

I'm being strangled by his statue If only his cold eyes could weep For these things that shouldn't be

Father, I've been sinning
I've pulled a fast one
The perfect sleight of fate
Goddamn, girl
Like an hourglass I'll invert you
The Higher powers shuddering
At what you have become

The laws of science abandoned Thrust into purgatory

Mary, you've never looked so tender I will you statues here To take a breath of life and look upon Her virgin skin raised in anticipation The dark has won My darkness has won again

[solo]

What is truth? I cannot yet discern Kneeling in hope of reprimand This Father's love shall not within me flow I've fallen to my knees in hollow prayer

How original a sin!

We'll fuck and so create And burn this planet in our wake

I'm being strangled by his statue If only his cold eyes could weep For these things that shouldn't be Father, I've been sinning I've pulled a fast one The perfect sleight of fate Goddamn, girl Like an hourglass I'll invert you

The only heaven I will know Is heaving 'neath the buttons of your blouse

We'll be immortal A most blessed union of lust The flames of Hell shall lick our coattails As we feast of infinity's bust
