Remember When (Side B)

The Black Keys

All right Happened when I heard her name The same old thoughts crept back again Oh, they grew...yeah, they grew

Somewhere in my sorry state The lightning struck that old iron gate Oh, it's true...yeah, it's true

With snow in tow, the winter winds Smacks you on your cheeks again Oh, it stings, oh, it stings

Remember how I held ya near And whispered in your precious ear Sweet things...yeah, sweet things Hey

It happened when I heard her name Same old thoughts crept back again Oh, they grew...yeah, they grew Ahh
