

It Could Be Yours

The Blackmail

Maybe I should sit and stare
It's so different now but you don't even care
You have asked me with a grin
If you could have it all and if I would let you in
It could be yours
With all the odds and ends
But don't come back again
It could be yours
Take everything you need
I'm begging you to leave
You'd better get on someone else
Well, I won't beg you please tell me how it felt
All that I regret is that we met
I only wish you leave 'cause you just bend my head
It could be yours
With all the odds and ends
But don't come back again
It could be yours
Take everything you need
I'm begging you to leave
It could be yours with all the odds and ends
I don't need anything don't come back again to me
It could be yours
Take everything you need
I'm begging you to leave
