I Love Myself And I Wanna Live

The Blackout

You drink, you drink alone So alone, you're waiting for life to begin Leave now and I'll follow you home I wake you up to live how you wanted to live Black eyes and broken bones Because i know you'll spill my blood by the end of the day Dirty kisses and filthy lies I can't help, you're leaving

Those were the days He's gone and blown them away

I love myself and I wanna live I love myself, I love myself I love myself and I wanna live I love myself, I love myself

You think, you think out loud Speaking tones you cant speak under control With what you got you should be proud You taken you life and filled it with hurt Stop now and save us all Because i know you'll be gone by the end of the day You paint your brains all over the wall Because i'm tired of waiting

Those were his days Now he's blown them away

I love myself and I wanna live I just wanna be awake for your kiss I love myself and I wanna live I'll do anything, I'll do anything

Just get up, get up, get up, Come on get it up Get up, get up, get up ahhhh come on

Don't give up, give up, give up, Give it up, give up, give up, give up

ahhhh

Just get up, get up, get up Come on, just get it up Get up, get up, come on

ahhhh

I love myself and I wanna live I love myself and I wanna live

I love myself [x4]
