Trouble Bound

The Blasters

I'm old enough to know the score
But I'm young enough to want more, more, more
They say it means nothing, all said and done
But that's all right, I'm just here for the fun

But I don't think twice when the sun goes down
I'm trouble bound

There's a demon deep inside of me
Sometimes I let the old boy run free
I'm trying to make a living during the day
Deep in the night I throw it all away

But I don't think twice when the sun goes down
I'm trouble bound

You see the girl looking fine, fine, fine
I'm gonna throw her a good time line
If she bites I'll reel her in
But if she don't I'll throw my line again

I'm old enough to know the score
But I'm young enough to want more, more, more
This old world is a tired place
The same old story on every face

But I don't think twice when the sun goes down
I'm trouble bound

You see the girl looking fine, fine, fine
I'm gonna throw her a good time line
If she bites I'll reel her in
But if she don't I'll throw my line again

This old world is a tired place
The same old story on every face
I'm trying to make aliving during the day
Deep in the night I throw it all away

But I don't think twice when the sun goes down
I'm trouble bound
No I don't think twice when the sun goes down
I'm trouble bound
