

Not Quite Paradise

The Bliss

To the man that leads resistance to the great unknown
No directory assistance, now your on your own
But if you're looking for a new world, just open up your eyes

Because it's not quite paradise but it sure feels like home
Not quite paradise, we can learn to grow
It'll be alright, no, it's not quite paradise

Tomorrow's an illusion, yesterday's a dream
Today is a solution but you gotta let her breath
If you're looking for the answer, it's right before your eyes

Although it's not quite paradise, it sure looks like home
Not quite paradise, we are not alone
It'll be alright, no, it's not quite paradise

Somewhere from the edge of time
When the flow is that and run so rhyme
I'll call you up and say we made it okay

Somewhere in the back of your mind
When will see your demons come to life
And the world just fades away, you know it's okay

But it's not quite paradise but it sure feels like home
Not quite paradise, we can make this place our own
Not quite paradise, we can learn to grow

Not quite paradise, we don't have to be alone
Not quite paradise, no, no, no no, no no
Not quite paradise but it sure feels like home
