

Remember My Name

The Bliss

Summer skies
Make me realize
If you weren't here
Nothing would be the same
Starry nights
Dancing in the candle lights
When the morning comes
Will you remember my name

Is it just the time of season
Do we really mean
The things we say
All things happen for a reason
As night follows the day
Love that once was strong
Could fade away
Could it be
Our love was destiny
We've got nothing to lose
You know we mustn't play games
Spread your wings
For you I would do anything
When the morning comes
Will you remember my name
