

Flames And Gas

The Blood

flames devour - skin and hair flames devour - flesh and blood only a one way route countless wagons arrive selected ones have to take a shower a shower of gas!

first they hold their breath gas crawls through their lungs the incinerator must be fired fired by human corpses

flames devours all skin flames devours all hair flames devours all flesh those flames devours all bones flames devours everything remaining gold and bones divided the smoke smells strange like a cemetery place
