

Independence

The Blue Van

My independence went away
I didn't listen when it said 'rely on yourself trusting someone else is a path for the silent ghost'
My independence went astray
I didn't think you could betray the pieces that belong inside yourself
Still I wonder where did we go wrong

Dear independence, which way do go?
Dear independence, the world will know what I think is right

My independence kicked me out
It fed me to a hungry crowd Like a leper I'm not touched and cannot bear to wath as I lose the will to lose myself

Dear independence, which way do go?
right
My independence had a mind of its own
