

Elwood intro:

"Good evening everyone and welcome to the United States of America. And indeed we have congregated here at this time to celebrate a most treasured wellspring of contemporary music. It is the sound which historians in the far future might catalogue under "twentieth century pre-light-emitting-diode euphoric." But today the sound lives and tonight is sampled exclusively for your entertainment pleasure. From the music capitals of this continent this is the hard-hitting showband of Joliet Jake and Elwood Blues, ladies and gentlemen these are The Blues Brothers."
