

Neon Rainbow

The Box Tops

The city lights, the pretty lights
They can warm the coldest nights
All the people going places
Smiling with electric faces
What they find the glow erases
What they've lose the glow replaces, and life is love.

In a neon rainbow, a neon rainbow.

Moving lights, flashing sights
Blinking faster than your mind
Leading people with suggestions
Leaving no unanswered questions
You can live without direction
And if don't have to be perfection, and life is love.

In a neon rainbow, a neon rainbow.

But in the daytime everything changes
Nothing remains the same, no one smiles anymore
Ad no one willopen his door
Until the night time comes, and then the

City lights, the pretty lights
They can warm the coldest nights
All the people going places
Smiling with the electric faces
What they find the glow erases
And what they lose the glow replaces, and life is love.
In a neon rainbow, a neon rainbow, a neon rainbow.
