Opened

The Breeders

Walking on his highways We leave the land And float inside the dark, black water

Robin flies again

She flew low over the highways And I saw the wind Blowing back her barbie doll hair

Robin flies again

And in a kitchen in Kentucky She thinks she's Peter Pan And in the bottom of a concrete basement

Robin flies again