I've been to parties like this before Nobody moves they just stare at the floor Everyone's watching waiting on me As if my words will set them free

But I'm not a ghost
No I'm not a god
I hold no power over you
I'm just a lightning rod
I've bottled every crush
Every foolish fantasy
I'm to beautiful for love
There's no sharing vanity

I'm not ashamed to say I've lost my mind I've been walking backwards all my life Some might say there's a price I've paid For a life less ordinary Welcome to my masquerade

I've been to parties like this before Where the prom queen is easy on the floor Nobody know what to say or do So they point the fingers at you

But I will not be swayed I won't be led astray I'm to beautiful for blame I always get away

But I'm not a ghost
No I'm not a god
I hold no power over you
I'm just a lightning rod

I'm not ashamed to say I've lost my mind I've been walking backwards all my life Some might say there's a price I've paid For a life less ordinary Welcome to my masquerade

I'm not ashamed to say I've lost my mind I've been walking backwards all my life Some might say there's a price I've paid For a life less ordinary

Welcome to my masquerade Welcome to my masquerade Welcome to my masquerade...
