

Always... (Isn't Always!)

The Business

"Always isn't always" - that's what you always say

I thought your lying wouldn't mean much to me
I thought your crying couldn't ever get to me
Seems like I known you too long in an awful way
Sad to see go but glad your someone I use to know

When I saw you on the south side of town its been sometime now, since I saw you around You didn't have much to say, you never did anyway
Jack up - Smacked Up, loving that brown
It looks like your on your way down

6 am on the south side of town
Smacked out, drugged out lying on the ground
I guess you couldn't take anymore
Sad to see you go but glad that your someone I use to know