

It's Only

The Cars

And the falls and the walls you think about it
And the calls and it crawls away
And you know that there's much to do about it
And you're caught in the ricochet

Sometimes we just walk away from delirious skies
Sometimes we just want to feel so electrified

It's only, yeah it's only to please the eyes and plague the heart

Fun flicks and the trick you knew about it
Dead bolts and a weird ways
And the times and the rhymes you knew about it
And the crimes they just fade away

Sometimes we just walk away from delirious skies
Sometimes we just want to feel so electrified

It's only, yeah it's only to please the eyes and plague the heart

And now I see the ones you want
And I know the ones you share
And you deceive the ones you dare

And the drift and the gift they give to you
And it turns to another day
And the mess and the stress you feel about it
It fades away

Sometimes we just walk away from delirious skies
Sometimes we just want to feel so electrified

It's only, yeah it's only to please the eyes and plague the heart
