Dion Fortune

The Cassandra Complex

She is the sea that holds all things within her My life is between her hands She is space and earth (and life) and water She is all, and she will understand

I go to her across the shadowy river She keeps my soul until the dawn The Dark Queen comes, comes to renew me From Death's caress, I rise reborn

Awaken me with kisses in the darkness Isis, the giver of life I am dead until you come to save me I am dead till you become my wife
