

Still Young

The Cat Empire

First I saw you standing there
Eyes so wild beneath your hair
Coat worn blacker than the sun
Shook your head like Strummer strummed
We stood like soldiers in a line
Heard the bells of midnight chime
We turned grey walls to fields of green
The only fate that we could scream was

While you're still young
Find your heart and find your song
Now where have you gone?

No matter where you're going
And no matter where you've been
You never needed anybody else's call now
I never met a one like you, never met a one like you
Never met a one like you, don't bring me down

There's a dream that haunts my nights
Of wild black horses out in flight
The kind of free I'd never been
A kind of beast I'd never seen
Why do all things end in pain?
I call the ghosts and ask their names
Is that love you're running from?
If you lead then I will come

And while you're still young
Find your heart and find your song
Now where have you gone?

No matter where you're going
And no matter where you've been
You never needed anybody else's call now
I never met a one like you, never met a one like you
Never met a one like you, don't bring me down

Basta de cuentos
Es tiempo de lo nuestro
Tengo tu alma
Bien metida adentro

While you're still young
Find your heart and find your song
While you're still young
Find your heart and find your song
While you're still young
Find your heart and find your song
Now where have you gone?
Oh oh oh...

No matter where you're going
And no matter where you've been
You never needed anybody else's call now
I never met a one like you, never met a one like you
Never met a one like you, don't bring me down
