

Dialogue With a Question Mark

The Chariot

Dancing around, into the isle and into the yard. Yes, we are practicing for war. Beg for your face. Beg for your fingertips. The request; the response.
The emeralds of all we claim cost nothing unless we walk off stage and then bury it for all to see. Precious diamonds.