Destination

The Church

Far below the surface, where the women sway Green shadows greet another day Drowned for the moment, on an empty ocean bed And I cannot lift my head

Late for an appointment, clothes everywhere I cannot find my memory anywhere Ah disappointment just doesn't care Off in the distance just waiting there

Take back her keys, what shall we do today Maybe a little lunch down at the ghost cafe Sand in my sandals, my blood feels like red wine They say, hey everything will work out fine
