Sun Don't Shine

The Clarks

He takes the pain with his coffee Stirs up his memory On the streets where he wants to be Mixing up a remedy He lights up a cigarette One thing he ain't quittin' yet He leans on the launderette Trusts no one he's ever met

Yeah, the sun don't shine for me

Addiction is gradual Love is a chemical God is habitual Pain is desirable

Yeah, the sun don't shine
And the rain it don't mind
Yeah, the sun don't shine for me....
For me

I'm not the one to tell you lies
I don't mean to glamorize.
It'll knock you right down to size
Don't need it to make me wise

Yeah, the sun don't shine And the rain it don't mind Yeah, the sun don't shine for me.... For me

You really got me going
Through my veins the blood is flowing
You really had me going
Though my veins the blood is flowing
