

Behind Enemy Lines

The Claymore

I'm out here in the jungle
My mind is full of fear
Surrounded by destruction
My nemesis is near

Stumbling over black bones
Of creatures in the night
Pounding heart is running
I'm ready for the fight

You can't see what I can see
Imprisoned by insanity

Take me home
Back to sweet solution
To my destiny

Take me home
Back where I can breathe
To my own eternity

See the napalm's burning bright
Like stardust in the darkened night
The screaming of my comrades raging in my ears
The madness is still haunting I'm crying bloody tears

Take me home
Back to sweet solution
To my destiny

Take me home
Back where I can breathe
To my own eternity

Tomorrow I can breathe!

You can't see what I can see
Imprisoned by insanity

Take me home
Back to sweet solution
To my destiny

Take me home
Back where I can breathe
To my own eternity
