

Dreamer in the Tower

The Claymore

I am walking through the fire
Endless hate reveals a state of sorrow. Save me!
I'm the dreamer in the tower
And I dream of wisdom in a heartless world

Tower of despondency
Keeps me caught leaves me praying
Here I wait for judgement day
Dream my dream of salvation

When I look in the mirror
I see a man without a past
Trapped in his world of anger
Caught in an endless state of grief
I'm on a search for wisdom
All that I found by now is pain
Where is the way to freedom?
Am I too weak to break the chain?

Sleepless lying in the shadow
In this cage I fell in love with madness, crying
Torn I'm waiting for some comfort
And I hide my tears in the eternal night

Tower of despondency...

When I look in the mirror...

Here I wait for judgement day
Dream my dream of salvation

When I look in the mirror...
