

Return to Zero

The Claymore

I'm losing you
I hear your voice still in my mind
You've never told me why you are so cruel
I'm missing you
And all my tears are falling down
Crying out your name, can't find your trace

But I keep on searching
See you in the cold rain

Return to zero
When the world is falling down again
I'm by your side
Return to zero
It's the beginning of another day
And I will make it right

Drowning in silence
I find you sitting in the park
Holding my last letter in your hands
I'm calling you
But you cannot hear my voice now
'Cause I am a ghost, I'm dead and gone

And I will protect you
See you in the cold rain

Return to zero
When the world is falling down again
I'm by your side
Return to zero
It's the beginning of another day
And I will make it right
