

Pale Man In Black

The Coffinshakers

Cursed, damned, well, you tell me
What the hell's the matter with me
But once you've met me it's too late to see
That I'm not quite what I seem to be

If you see me in the alleys, hiding from the light
If I'm there when you look outside your window at night

You'll know it's me, I'm the Pale Man in Black

It was a close call I tell you, when I died
Escaped from the crematory in the nick of time
It seems like I told someone that it was my will
But once I died I changed my mind

So now I'm back with a vengeance, ready to attack
'Cause once you've turned your back on life there's no turnin'
back

Yeah, I'm doomed to be the Pale Man in Black

Cursed, damned, it's alright with me
What ever's the matter with me
'Cause once you've met me it's too late to see
That I'm not quite what I seem to be

If you see me...
