

Yes Yes

The Colourist

My love is of course love
Anybody who tells you differently
They'll lie to confuse you
They'll do anything to take you from me

Yes yes, they've been jealous of the time spent between you and me They've been talkin' even plottin'
of a way they can steal you from me
(of a way they can steal you from me)

You've been down, down for days and days
but searching for another won't fix a thing
You've been down, down for days and days
but searching for another won't fix a thing
No searching for another won't fix a thing

This time may be the last time that I see you
Just believe in me
Don't be leaving me
I'll do anything to keep you with me

Don't be fooled by the words of deceit
Keep it in from falling out
Don't let them talk me down
As a way they could steal you from me
(as a way they could steal you from me)

You've been down, down for days and days
but searching for another won't fix a thing
You've been down, down for days and days
but searching for another won't fix a thing
No searching for another won't fix a thing

Take my hand
You're slipping, it's so dark out where you're trying to walk
But you're been talking
Like life is rushing past while we're just sitting tight
But nothing's going to change until you look inside (Nooo)
Nothing's going to change until you look inside

You've been down, down for days and days
But searching for another won't fix a thing
You've been down, down for days and days
But searching for another won't fix a thing (Nooo)
Searching for another won't fix a thing
