Tomorrow

The Communards

Like the knife of a thief that's held close to the throat I'm threatened by you and the cruel way you gloat You once turned me on now it all seems so remote. You broke me in pieces you cherished each blow The harder you hit me the stronger I grow I'll leave you tomorrow take my pride and You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul I've had all I can take. You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul I've had all I can take. I'm leaving tomorrow I'm leaving tamorrow I'm leaving I've had all I can take. Don't tell me you love me your tears are too late Your trap was deception and I took the bait The animal in you you can't keep at bay. I'm not your possession to treat as you wish Your silence will slowly destroy you each day I'm leavincl tomorrow my love for life is great. You may break the skin but you can t kill the soul . . . You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul . . . I'm leaving tomorrow I'm leaving tomorrow I'm leaving yes I'm leaving! You broke me in pieces you cherished each blow .... You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul .... You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul .... You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul .... You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul ....
