

Fiction

The Concretes

You don't seem to grasp your own importance
You misbehave in almost every chapter
You take your rescue in some written fiction
While your own book could use a better plotline

The font should be bold

Try and turn the next page with some tenderness
And maybe things will take a nicer turn
You can't control it like some written fiction
But try at least to pick a selling title
