Dreamin'

The Cool Kids

I was asleep in the clouds before I fell to the ground But on the way down it was takin a while Then I seen this door; It was cracked so I openned it more and more, Then I walked inside of it

I heard it shut followed by a lock Now I'm locked in a box And I'm tryna get out So door man door man where art thou? I'm like Door man door man let me out

Door man door man I don't know how If you don't open this door I'm kickin it down Seen the glimmer of his key that was attached to a ring On his head was a hat that was actually green Actually green? I say that because this actually a dream Not really but it seems to be

So I describe the scene, Yo But anyway the door man let me out of the box I ran and shook his hand right before I bounced And then I look again And I notice that I stand alone Door man disappeared like a phantom, gone

So I'm runnin again I don't know what I'm chasing but I'm running again Got to pick up my pace if I'm ever gonna make it to her in time So I guess that's what I'm chasing

I think your dreamin Just keep runnin Don't you let me go again

Now I'm moving through the galaxy Anythings possibly when spaceships follow me And the clocks tickin so I ain't really got much time to be thinking where s he could be Then he approached me The door man again, he held out his hand So I grabbed it and walked with him the distance He showed me old pictures of things I was missing Things I took for-granted back when I had them Ex girlfriend I don't remember what happened Love of my life one second and then vanished

Then it all started to make sense I had to backtrack for a second and think What do these things have pertaining to me? And with that in mind I developed the link The clouds I fell from; The box I was trapped in It turns out it was really a casket The girl I was chasing was the girl I was last with In the car right before we crashed it Prom night, 06, everything had gone right Before a drunk driver hit us from the blind side

Next thing I knew everything had turned white I can't see I try to open my eyes but my vision is mad blurry I'm layin on the stretcher an I see her next to me I grab her hand to tell her to please forgive me I look her in the eyes Tears lye on her cheek As we lay there silent she speaks We can be together if you follow me

I think your dreamin Just keep runnin Don't you let me go agian
